

Hannah's Day

2011

Will be on Saturday 23rd July

From 3pm till late

Bring some food to share, a bottle and a friend if you wish

WHAT HANNAH'S DAY IS ALL ABOUT

This is the 7th Hannah's Day party and Nigel and I would love you to come along. Named for my mum, Hannah's Day is an Open Day party so we can keep in touch with everyone we care about.

Come and go as you wish. We open the doors at 3pm and you can stay till the end if you want. Children are welcome but in the afternoon only please.

The 'community picnic' idea works really well. Since we've started it we've had a really varied selection of food, so we're doing the same this year. Please bring along something you enjoy eating to share with the other guests.

But if you can't join us please keep in touch anyway.

And whether you come or not, why not contact someone you don't often see to let them know that you think of them and care about them.

2011 PARTY SPECIAL/S

I'm hoping that this year we'll be able to have not just one, but two special events. If both take place, the generous ladies running them are doing them without charge, so if you do join in with either or both, it would be appreciated if you could give a small donation to each one as a thank-you

The first event is Biodanza. If you like music and dancing, you'll enjoy this. In 2009 we had a short open-air session in the field at the local school and weather permitting, we're having another one this year.

Vandals that we are, we have been refused permission to dance at the school this year, so instead we'll hold the Biodanza session on one of the two grassy areas outside our house.

We'll start dancing at 3.30pm. Join in if you wish or just watch.

The other event I'm hoping to have is another Indian Drum Ceremony. This was a brilliant success in the evening of Nigel and my wedding day and was enjoyed in two similar sessions last Hannah's Day. The early evening one in our back garden was particularly spiritual. June O'Neil, who takes these sessions, is not certain if she can make it, but if she does, this is the type of group which will be repeated. I'll let you know as soon as possible if this is happening.

If it does, June will bring a few instruments, but doesn't have many, so if you want to join in please bring something to bash, shake or jangle.

If you are lucky enough to possess more than one real instrument and don't mind others using them, we'd be really grateful if you could bring them with you. (Make sure they're marked in some way to identify them as yours in case they get mislaid.)

HOPE TO SEE YOU ON THE 23rd JULY

